Not illustrated. 1877 Excerpt: .fulfilling something of the grandeur of that Acceptable Year which was announced by higher than human lips, and would be the auspicious promise and pledge of a glorious second century of Independence and Freedom for our country! For, if that second century of self-government is to go on safely to its close, or is to go on safely and prosperously at all there must be some renewal of that old spirit of subordination and obedience to Divine, as well as human Laws, which has been our security in the past. There must be faith in something higher and better than ourselves. There must be a reverent acknowledgment of an Unseen but All-seeing, Allcontrolling Ruler of the Universe. His Word, His Day, His House, His Worship, must be sacred to our children, as they have been to their fathers; and His blessing must never fail to be invoked upon our land and upon our liberties. The patriot voice, which cried from the balcony of yonder Old State House, when the Declaration had been originally proEulogy of Stonewall Jackscn. 51 claimed, Stability and Perpetuity to American Independence, did not fail to add, God save our American States. I would prolong that ancestral prayer. And the last phrase to pass my lips at this hour, and to take its chance of remembrance or oblivion in years to come, as the conclusion of this Centennial oration, and the sum of all I can say to the present or the future,...
