Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from A Sermon at the Opening of the Convention, of the Protestant Episcopal Church of Virginia: In Petersburg, May the 15th, 1828 Once more, dear brethren and friends, we are permitted, by the good providence of God, to meet together in annual convention. For no worldly purpose, either of business or pleasure, have we left our several homes and travelled to this appointed place. We have come to consult how best we may promote that portion of the Redeemer's kingdom which has been committed to our trust; and also, to provoke one another and all who have come up with us, to love and good works. Let us approach the duty with deep humility, and a trembling solicitude that all we say and do, may redound to the glory of God. In rising to address you, I follow the old and venerable custom of taking a few of God's words, as my safe guide and strong authority. Surely none more suitable and impressive can be desired than those I have chosen. To do good...
